

Supporting Our Students and Families – #AllAreWelcome

- As our community continues to recover from Hurricane Irma, Broward County Public Schools remains focused on welcoming students and families displaced by recent natural disasters, both locally and abroad, and providing the best educational experiences and support services possible.

Over the past several weeks, more than 860 displaced students have been welcomed in our innovative District schools. Families can learn more about available services and resources at browardschools.com/allarewelcome.

- BCPS is a national leader in ensuring all students have equal access to a free education. The Broward County School Board adopted Resolution No. 17-98, designating BCPS as an inclusive, safe and welcoming District, ensuring a protected space and environment for all students, regardless of immigration status, religion or country of origin. ## Commitment to Excellence in Education

- BCPS is moving forward on the right path, with its strategic focus on high-quality instruction, continuous improvement and effective communication. Check out the District's Strategic Plan Progress Report for 2016/17 (Year One) at browardschools.com/stratplan.
- 96 percent of innovative District schools earned an "A," "B" or "C" from the state in 2017.
- The Advanced Placement (AP) pass rate among BCPS high schools is the highest in more than 10 years. In addition:
  - More African-American students in BCPS took AP computer science exams in 2017 than in the entire state of Florida in 2016.
  - District schools had record participation by Hispanic students in AP computer science courses in 2017 – more than tripling since 2016.
  - More girls than ever before are participating and succeeding in computer science AP courses and exams.
- BCPS high schools are ranked among the best and most challenging schools in the nation by U.S. News & World Report and The Washington Post.
- Magnet programs in the District are honored as Magnet Schools of Excellence and Distinction. In addition, Apollo Middle School is one of only 10 schools in the nation honored as a National Demonstration School by Magnet Schools of America.
